

C2ST: 0.88

221.96s

A scatter plot on a dark blue background showing a positive linear correlation between two variables. The data points are represented by semi-transparent circles. Two distinct clusters of points are highlighted in red, one in the lower-left and one in the upper-right, indicating regions of higher density or specific interest in the data distribution. The rest of the points are in shades of white and light blue.